He walked about there all one day, as if seeking something..summoned myself again into life, to do what must be done..".Among the Kargs the power of magic appears to be very rare as a native gift, perhaps because it was neglected or actively suppressed by their society and government. Except as an evil to be dreaded and shunned, magic plays no recognized part in their society. This inability or refusal to practice magic puts the Kargs at a disadvantage with the Archipelagans in almost every respect, which may explain why they have generally held themselves aloof from trade or any kind of interchange, other than piratical raids and invasions of the nearer islands of the South Reach and around the Gontish Sea..overweening confidence in the young of their kind. They expect modesty to come later, if at all..Irian stood silent too, but her hope sank down, replaced by a sense of shame and utter insignificance. These were brave, wise men, seeking to save what they loved, but they did not know how to do it. And she had no share in their wisdom, no part in their decisions. She drew away from them, and they did not notice. She walked on, going towards the Thwilburn where it ran out of the wood over a little fall of boulders. The water was bright in the morning sunlight and made a happy noise. She wanted to cry but she had never been good at crying. She stood and watched the water, and her shame turned slowly into anger..water from the stream that ran clear and quiet ten steps from the door. She did these things in a.something more. I spared him that, turning away as if I had not noticed anything, and went up the.how sweet life was. He had bought the Reche grove, at a very stiff price to be sure, but at least."Anywhere. Run away..".because they all needed what warmth there was to be got from the fire, but they did not want him."Irian," he said, and now her name came easily, sweet and cool as spring water in his dry mouth. "Irian, here's what you must do to enter the Great House...".not by witchcraft, but merely by the
